

Certificate in School Management and Leadership

www.csml.gse.harvard.edu

LEADING LEARNING

Leading Learning is designed to help school leaders develop the school structures, systems, supports, and culture that lead to excellent teaching and learning in every classroom, for every student.

Module 1: Systems-Wide Alignment for Excellent Teaching & Learning

Develop whole-school systems that align with your instructional vision to support all students.

Module 2: Creating a Strong Instructional & Caring Culture

Create strong data- and action-driven systems and structures focused on students' academic and character development.

Module 3: Developing Your Teachers

Design professional learning and leadership opportunities to develop teachers and improve teaching and learning.

Module 4: Teaching & Learning Beyond the Classroom

Navigate change in and around your school and empower your teams to meet students' evolving needs.

I have learned valuable knowledge and insight into what actions lead to a successful school environment. I have a book full of notes and will engage in sharing and collaborating with my admin team. Since starting this program, I have already approached challenges in a more adaptive approach, where there is shared leadership. I also look at our school norms, behaviors and artifacts differently and more in-depth.

— Michelle H., Assistant Principal
Pasco County, Florida

For additional group enrollment information, please contact:

Cate Gardner

catherine_gardner@gse.harvard.edu

CSML By the Numbers:

15,000+ Total Enrollments

125

Countries & Territories
Represented

54

U.S. States & Territories
Represented

90%

Satisfaction Rating

97%

Completion Rate

Certificate in School Management and Leadership

www.csml.gse.harvard.edu

Learn From World-Class Faculty & A Global Community of School Leaders

Our flexible, interactive platform, powered by HBS Online, is designed to bring practitioners from around the world together in a dynamic learning experience. Build your knowledge and your network of fellow schools leaders.

World-class Harvard faculty research adapted to the PreK-12 school context

Develop a toolkit and solutions that are tailored to improving your school

100% online and interactive

Global peer network of school leaders

Features case studies of leaders from a diverse cross-section of schools and businesses

Select from four courses to develop your own learning sequence, taken at a pace that fits your schedule

Leading Learning Faculty

Deborah Jewell-Sherman
Harvard Graduate School of Education

Drew Echelson
Harvard Graduate School of Education

Evin Naidoo
Harvard Business School

John Jong-Hyun Kim
Harvard Business School

Richard Weissbourd
Harvard Graduate School of Education
Harvard Kennedy School

Willis Emmons
Harvard Business School

"In my educational journey, from an Associate's degree to a Doctoral degree, I have taken four online courses. By far, CSML via HBS Online was the most engaging and beneficial. Aspects like the bundles, testimonies from educators, submissions from experts, and a modern interactive dashboard, made the experience very distinct."

— Sekou S., Teacher Leader
Prince George's County, Maryland

What sets HBS Online apart?

Our flexible online programs are built around three key characteristics:

Active

Social

Case-based

For additional information, please contact Cate Gardner at catherine_gardner@gse.harvard.edu.